To W. L. Garrison.

Hartford. Conn.
March. 27. 1863.

My Dear Friend. —

I shall trouble
you, if you please, for a little help, — I want everything
I can get in regard to the position taken by the South, & its leaders, in regard to the workingmen, laborers, — &
labor, generally, at the north; — I supposed you would probably have it in a compact form, — & needing it very much, may I trespass on your time &
care, a little to send it me. —

I should like to have it soon as possible.

Feeling runs very high in the State, — grows more & more intense every day

indeed, I believe they apprehend violence at the Polls.

I do not feel nearly so hopeful in regard to it as I did in the L. N. Campaign; — I think, however, that I work even harder in consequence.

How are Mr. & Fanny? Please give them my love, & believe me — in haste —

Very Truly Yours.

Anna E. Dickinson.
